Risks

Key Risks

Income Insurance's ILP sub-funds are intended for long-term investment, it is not suited for any short-term speculation. You should not expect to obtain any short-term gains from investing in Income Insurance's ILP sub-funds. It is important that your investment suit your risk appetite. You may wish to consult your financial advisor before investing in any Income Insurance's ILP sub-fund.

The securities and instruments in which the sub-fund may invest are subject to market fluctuations and other risks inherent in such investments and there can be no assurance that any appreciation in value will occur.

You should be aware that past performance is not indicative of future performance. The value of the units may rise or fall as the performance of the sub-fund changes.

The sub-fund and the underlying fund are exposed to the risks set out in this section. Given that the sub-fund invests entirely into the underlying fund, the risks associated with the underlying fund will also impact the sub-fund.

The risks described in this paragraph are not exhaustive and you should be aware that the ILP sub-fund and the underlying fund may be exposed to other risks of an exceptional nature from time to time. The risk factors may cause you to lose some or all your investments. A description of the major risks is provided below.

Market and Credit Risks

You are exposed to general market risk. The underlying fund is exposed to various general trends and tendencies in the economic and political situation as well as securities markets and investment sentiment, which may lead to substantial and longer-lasting drops in prices affecting the entire market.

You are exposed to country and region risk. The underlying fund's investments focus on US and/or Canada may increase the concentration risk. The underlying fund is susceptible to the adverse economic, political, policy, foreign exchange, liquidity, tax, legal or regulatory event or development in and risks of this region, or of companies based and / or operating in this region.

You are exposed to currency risk. The underlying fund may hold assets or have a share class denominated in foreign currencies. If these foreign currency positions have not been hedged or if there is any change in the relevant exchange control regulations, the net asset value of the underlying fund may be affected unfavourably.

You are exposed to issuer default risk. The issuer of securities held by the underlying fund may become insolvent causing its inability to fulfill his payment obligations in a full and timely manner and causing such issued assets to become economically worthless.

You are exposed to creditworthiness risk. The creditworthiness (ability to pay) of the issuer of an asset held by the underlying fund may fall. This usually leads to a decrease in the price of the asset greater than that caused by general market fluctuations.

You are exposed to emerging market risk. The underlying fund invests in emerging markets which are subject to greater liquidity risk, currency risk, general market risk, settlement risk and custodial risk. The underlying fund is additionally subject to legal, taxation and regulatory risks.

Income US Dividend and Growth Fund

Fund Summary
as of 9 September 2025Liquidity Risks

You are exposed to liquidity risk. There is no secondary market for the sub-fund. All redemption requests should be made to the manager. In exceptional circumstances, the sub-fund's investments in underlying funds may not be readily redeemable.

Product-Specific Risks

You are exposed to company specific risk. The value of the underlying fund's assets may drop significantly and for an extended period of time if company specific factors deteriorate.

You are exposed to derivatives risk. (i) the derivatives may be misvalued or may have varying valuations; (ii) the use of derivatives may not completely hedge the risk intended to be hedged; (iii) derivatives may become difficult to sell. In such cases, the underlying fund may not be able to liquidate a position at an appropriate time or price; (iv) there is also a creditworthiness risk; (v) given the leverage effect embedded in derivatives, even a small investment in derivatives could have a substantial, even negative, effect on the performance of the underlying fund.

You are exposed to the risk of interest rate changes. If market interest rates rise, the value of the interest-bearing assets held by the underlying fund may decline substantially. This applies to an even greater degree if the underlying fund also holds interest-bearing securities with a longer time to maturity and a lower nominal interest rate.

You are exposed to downgrading risk. The credit rating of interest-bearing securities held by the underlying fund may be downgraded. The underlying fund may or may not be able to dispose of the securities that are being downgraded. This may lead to a fall in the net asset value of the underlying fund.

You are exposed to the risk of investing in high-yield investments and convertible bonds. These risks include increased creditworthiness risk, risk of interest rate changes, general market risk, company-specific risk, risk of default, prepayment risk and liquidity risk.

You are exposed to valuation risk. The valuation of the underlying fund assets may involve uncertainties and judgmental determinations which may affect the net asset value calculation of the underlying fund.

You are exposed to credit rating risk. Credit ratings assigned by rating agencies are subject to limitations and do not guarantee the creditworthiness of the security and/or issuer at all times.

You are exposed to asset allocation risk. There is no assurance that the strategy employed by the underlying fund will be successful and therefore the investment objective of the underlying fund may not be achieved. The investments of the underlying fund may be periodically rebalanced and therefore may incur greater transaction costs.

For details on the specific risks of investments in the underlying fund, please refer to Risk Factors section of the underlying fund's Singapore prospectus.

Conflicts of Interest

Income Insurance

As the Fund Manager of various Income Insurance ILP sub-funds and insurance funds, we may from time to time have to deal with competing or conflicting interests between these sub-funds/insurance funds. However, we will use all reasonable endeavours to act fairly and in the best interest of the sub-fund. We will conduct all transactions with or for the sub-fund on an arm's length basis. The Fund Manager has in place policies and procedures to monitor and mitigate conflicts of interests which may arise in the management of these sub-funds. We believe that these policies and procedures are reasonably designed to ensure that portfolio management decisions are made in the best interest of the sub-fund and each sub-fund is treated fairly, regardless of the existence of any conflict.

Allianz Global Investors GmbH

The Allianz Global Investors Fund, the management company, the Depositary, the Registrar and Transfer Agent and any of the investment managers, Investment Advisors, Paying and Information Agent or Distributors may each from time-to-time act in such capacity in relation to, or be otherwise involved in, other funds which have similar investment objectives to those of the sub-funds. It is, therefore, possible that any of them may, in the course of business, have potential conflicts of interests with one or more of the sub-funds.

Each party will, at all times, have regard in such event to its obligations under its respective service agreement with the Allianz Global Investors Fund and will endeavour to ensure that such conflicts of interest are resolved fairly. The management company has adopted a policy designed to ensure that in all transactions a reasonable effort is made to avoid conflicts of interest and, when they cannot be avoided, such conflicts are managed such that the sub-funds and their shareholders are fairly treated.

In addition, any of the foregoing parties may deal, as principal or agent, with any of the sub-funds, provided that such dealings are carried out as if effected on normal commercial terms negotiated on an arm's length basis and in the best interests of shareholders.

Dealings will be deemed to have been effected on normal commercial terms if: (i) a certified valuation of a transaction by a person approved by the Depositary as independent and competent is obtained; (ii) the transaction is executed on best terms on an organised investment exchange in accordance with the rules of such exchange; or (iii), where (i) and (ii) are not practical, the transaction is executed on terms which the Depositary is satisfied are normal commercial terms negotiated at arm's length.

Conflicts of interest may arise as a result of transactions in derivatives, OTC derivatives and efficient portfolio management techniques and instruments. For example, the counterparties to, or agents, intermediaries or other entities which provide services in respect of, such transactions may be related to the management company, any investment manager or Investment Advisor or the Depositary. As a result, those entities may generate profits, fees or other income or avoid losses through such transactions. Furthermore, conflicts of interests may also arise where the collateral provided by such entities is subject to a valuation or haircut applied by a related party.

The management company has adopted a policy designed to ensure that its service providers act in the sub-funds' best interests when executing decisions to deal and placing orders to deal on behalf of those sub-funds in the context of managing the sub-funds' portfolios. For these purposes, all reasonable steps must be taken to obtain the best possible result for the sub-funds, taking into account price, costs, speed, likelihood of execution, order size and nature, research services provided by the broker to the investment manager or Investment Advisor, or any other consideration relevant to the execution of the order.
